Piece inspired by the dragon in Parc Güell, Barcelona. Hand painted with more than 10 colours.

The Park Güell is a garden complex with architectural elements situated in Barcelona. It was designed by the Catalan architect Antoni Gaudí, famous for his unique and highly individualistic designs.

At the main entrance you will find the multicolored mosaic dragon to welcome you. To design the curvature of the bench surface Gaudí used the shape of buttocks left by a naked workman sitting in wet clay. The curves of the serpent bench form a number of enclaves, creating a more social atmosphere.
