Paper tissues or kleenex (as everybody knows them) have an original design with polka dots and a very flamenco and Spanish style.

The first paper tissue appeared in 1924 and the curiosity is that originally, it was not made to be used as a handkerchief but as a make-up remover. The aim was to help to remove make-up but people started to use it as handkerchief, which forced the company to increase the production.

Kleenex tissues are extra soft and very resistant. They do not irritate skin, as they are not harsh to touch.
