The present collection of works integrates both philosophies, combining the most expressive classical techniques with the most traditional rhythms. It contains one muñeira, five waltzes, one bolero, one habanera, one samba and one jazz ballad. Ten pieces for guitar of intermediate difficulty, from a strong popular style and with an exquisite classical touch. Rhythmic and harmonious music, with catchy melodies and a Latin influence present in most of the works. The CD was recorded by the international concert player Toni Cotolí, who is playing and spreading this style of music all around the world since 2009 and he is receiving an excellent welcome from a widely different audience. The combination of the classical technique with the popular rhythms makes these pieces the perfect complement for any guitarist wanting to impact an audience with something different.
