Raimundo Amador is one of the artists who has worked together with all kinds of artists, both at a national and international level. As a guitarist, he has tackled several genres and although his roots lie in flamenco, his love for blues has always been especially important. This record is a compilation of some of the great songs that he has recorded with flamenco artists like Tomatito, Camarón, Kiko Veneno and Antonio Carmona, or with other artists from different genres, like B.B. King, Björk, Andrés Calamaro, Rosendo, El Gran Wyoming, Mala Rodríguez, Kiko Veneno, Tomatito... ..
