El Viejín is a resident of the Madrid quarter of Caño Roto, a unique gypsy community, where several guitarists can be found living in each house. His delicate and passionate style of playing has enabled him to accompany the great guitarist Paco de Lucía and to compose music for the british film-maker Mike Figgis. In addition, he has been a constant source of inspiration for many years for the dancer Antonio Canales, whose next ballet will include several themes from this 'Algo que decir'.
